Bridge of Sand Janet Burroway

In this beautifully written novel, Burroway uses a woman's personal loss, coincident with 9/11, to explore race, territory, and renewal.

Dana, the widow of a Pennsylvania senator, buries her husband the morning of 9/11, only miles from the United 93 crash. After months of paralysis, she sells her house and heads south in an effort to pick up the lost strands of her youth.

Finding that her grandmother's house is now gone, replaced by a strip mall, she phones an old acquaintance. Cassius Huston is black, separated from a harridan of a wife, and devoted to his three-year-old daughter. Much to their surprise, Cassius and Dana fall in love. But when Dana is threatened by Cassius's family, she flees to the Gulf Coast, where she finally finds herself, and her life, in a place and culture she never could have anticipated.

Set amid the blur of 9/11, this wise, beautifully written novel of love, race, territory, and renewal explores the issues that challenge us all.

John Barrow:

Playing with family in a park, coming to see the coastal world or hanging out with friends is thing that usually you could have done when you have spare time, and then why you don't try point that really opposite from that. Just one activity that make you not experiencing tired but still relaxing, trilling like on roller coaster you already been ride on and with addition of knowledge. Even you love Bridge of Sand, you are able to enjoy both. It is fine combination right, you still need to miss it? What kind of hang-out type is it? Oh can happen its mind hangout fellas. What? Still don't understand it, oh come on its named reading friends.

Linda Justice:

As a university student exactly feel bored to be able to reading. If their teacher inquired them to go to the library as well as to make summary for some publication, they are complained. Just small students that has reading's heart or real their hobby. They just do what the teacher want, like asked to the library. They go to generally there but nothing reading seriously. Any students feel that reading through is not important, boring as well as can't see colorful pics on there. Yeah, it is to get complicated. Book is very important for you. As we know that on this period of time, many ways to get whatever we wish. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore this Bridge of Sand can make you experience more interested to read.
