Gallipoli: The Landing Hugh Dolan

Gallipoli: The Landing takes the events of April 25, 1915 and presents them in a full-color comic that's both action-packed and historically accurate. Rather than a botched attack planned by indifferent British generals, the Gallipoli campaign was carefully thought out, and included an amphibious attack on the beach by Anzac officers. Hugh Dolan and Mal Gardiner bring the story to life, describing the lead-up and the attack on Gallipoli in detail, from both sides of the fighting. Including biographies of all the key military figures as well as details about the preparations for the landing itself, this work dispels many myths associated with the Gallipoli campaign and establishes some of the reasons why the campaign in the Dardanelles eventually failed.
